award-winning digital tools used by SMEs, inspectors and regulators

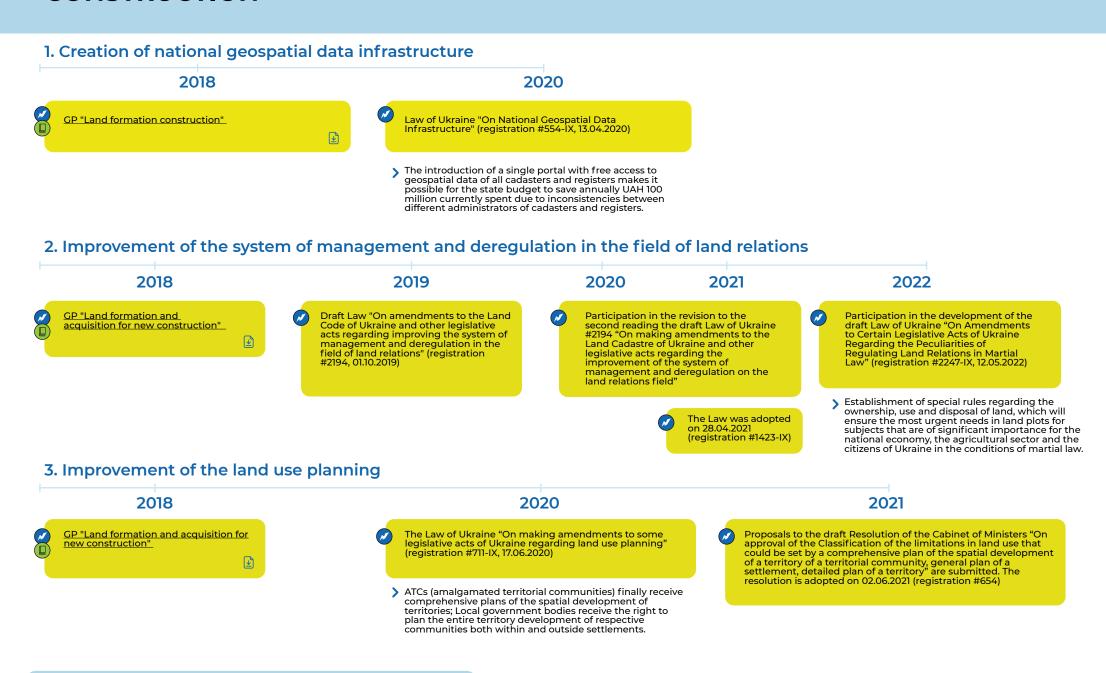

When the full-scale Russian invasion of Ukraine began, we all had to review our professional activities. Developing policies, drafting laws, and working on digital business solutions seemed initially invalid. However, with time it became evident that our reforms and initiatives maintained their relevance, and new challenges faced by Ukraine today amid the war, force us to open a new area of activity — the military one. To simplify the import of UAVs and other military goods, to provide evacuation of state registers, to launch a nationwide "Shelter" portal, to create a new register of damaged and destroyed property, to help businesses with wartime adaptation, and to prepare for future reconstruction of Ukraine — we added these tasks to the BRDO agenda. Most importantly, Ukrainian institutions keep working and proving their resilience daily, and we cooperate with the state to guarantee its continuous development.

The European Commission highly evaluated BRDO's work in its annual report "Association Implementation Report on Ukraine":

"Ukraine continued to pursue effective reform of state policy promoting a favourable business environment and regulatory framework, especially for SMEs. The Better Regulation Delivery Office (BRDO) remains instrumental in deregulation reform and improvement of the business regulatory environment."

The Green paper "Analysis of the necessary changes in the regulatory field in the electric power industry of Ukraine to meet the goals of the European Green Deal" is developed and published.

Creation of legislative conditions for the development of carbon markets and "green" energy on the way to achieving climate neutrality

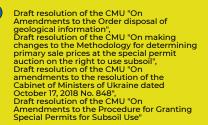

The road map of the European Green Deal envisages a set of measures to increase the efficient use of energy resources, transition to a "clean" circular economy, reduce pollution and prevent climate change. Fairly strict environmental requirements for products that will be imported into the EU countries are foreseen, the so-called Carbon Border Tax. Within the framework of the green paper, experts in the energy sector proposed a list of actions to the authorities of Ukraine to minimize the negative consequences of the implementation of policies in Ukraine that correspond to the general trends of the European Green Deal.

Until recently, rental rates for the same radio-frequency resource (RFR) ranges differed by 65 times in Ukraine. The amendments provide for an increase in the rental rate. According to BRDO calculations, this will increase state budget revenues by UAH 236.3 million in 2021.

Refarming the 900 MHz frequency band to run 4G

- > Previously, the 900 MHz band was fragmented and a large proportion of it was concentrated in one of the telecommunications operators. This hindered the 4G development in Ukraine.
- > The need for 900 MHz frequency band redistribution was analyzed in detail by BRDO experts in the research of the RFR market regulation. In July 2019, the President approved an action plan for the introduction of quality mobile communications. A working group consisting of representatives of the NCCIR, BRDO, leading mobile operators, professional associations, and government authorities was established to implement the action plan.
